Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth. (Ecclesiastes 12:1)

No matter how young we may be, we can start developing our relationships with God. We can praise and thank him for our blessings - for the beauty we see around us everywhere. In our prayers we can tell Him we love Him. We can study His Word at home and in meetings with others who also love God. If we do these things, our lives will be blessed. Ephesians 6:7
